Fedora "State of the Union"

Address

An inauguration ceremony will take place at 8 AM on Friday November 4th. Following this, Jared Smith, the Fedora project leader will talk about the successes and failures the project has had over the past year, its goals for the upcoming year, and how each FUDCon participant can have a positive impact in not just Fedora, but in the world at large.

Please make it a point to be at the venue at 8 AM on Friday, 4th November.

Hospitality and hack suite

A room is being provided as a shared room for group hacking, gaming and so on. More information on this will be made available at the venue itself.

FUDPub (Saturday)

An annual tradition! Please join us on Saturday night from 7:00 to 11:00 p.m. for food, drinks and plenty of recreational activities. The location will be announced at the conference.

All ages are welcome, but bartending staff will be checking IDs for alcoholic beverages. The legal drinking age in Pune is 21 for beer.

Blogging

If you are writing blog posts about FUDCon, we welcome you to join us on Fedora Planet. Adding your blog to Planet requires a FAS account that has signed the CLA and is approved for one additional group. If you are new to Fedora but know someone who would be willing to add your blog to Planet, ask them.

If you were sponsored to come to FUDCon, we request that you write at least one blog post for Planet.

Microblogging

Microblogging is one of the best ways to promote FUDCon and receive timely updates from event organizers and attendees. Use the hashtag #fudconin11, which can be monitored from your favorite microblogging client. The hashtag can also be used on Flickr

IRC channels

Our main IRC channel on Freenode is #fedora-fudcon. If you are transcribing a session, please report the session name and IRC channel to the main channel. If you are using Gobby or EtherPad in your hackfest, please make a note of this in the main channel as well.
